

The following pages contain pages or portions of pages from some books that parents and grandparents have created for children. Use these to gain some creative ideas for what to do with your copy of “My Name Is _____ and I Am a Bahá’í!

Tip: You may find it helpful to look through your photos and find the ones you like the best. That will then guide you through the customizing as well.

Susanne M. Alexander
Marriage Transformation
susanne@marriagetransformation.com

www.marriagetransformation.com
www.bahaimarriage.net

I have important playing to do every day. I get out my favorite toys. I take gentle and loving care of my baby doll.

I treat my books with respect. Mommy and Daddy read books to me, and we look at the pictures. Everyone who visits me reads books to me too. Here I am looking at a book with Grammy.

I like to be creative and draw pictures. I give them to my friends and family.

I have fun playing with other kids. I am courteous to them. I share my toys with them. I like to help them be happy. We smile and laugh together.

I like to be creative and play music. I love the drums!
Especially at the Baha'i Center on Sundays!

Sometimes I go with Mommy or Daddy to eat.

Good morning, Daddy! That is my special name for my father. Other people call him Steve (or Honey-pie or Dr. Wu). He is a Bahá'í too.

Every morning, he comes in to pray and play with me, after my mommy nurses me. We love our time together. I feel sad when he leaves for work.

And my very favorite past-time is reading my books. I try to treat my books with respect. Mommy and Daddy read books to me, and we look at the pictures. Here I am looking at books with Mommy. I LOVE TO READ!

I love to look at the computer too. Grandma sure is kind to let me watch!

I go with Mommy or Daddy to the store. We go to restaurants to eat, too.

I also like to go outside and play. I enjoy the grass, trees, and sunshine God created. I see the flowers. I see the squirrels. I play with Jasmine. I draw with chalk on the driveway with Grampa and Nana.

I like to listen to people sing Bahá'í quotations. Sometimes I sing them too. Sometimes I dance to the music. This is one of my favorite quotations to sing:

“Truthfulness is the foundation of all human virtues.”

‘Abdu’l-Bahá, The Advent of Divine Justice, p. 26

I like music. It makes me feel good. I like to listen to Grampa play the flute and guitar too. We play music together.

